What can I expect when I come for MRI at LION?

When you come for an MRI examination at LION you will be met by a radiographer that will take good care of you during the examination.

You will be shown a changing room where you have to change into a gown. This is to ensure that you do not have any metal on your clothes or in your pockets.

You have to take off jewellery, and leave it in the changing room with all other items and valuables.

The exam will take from 15-45 minutes.

Before the examination starts, you will be provided with hearing protection because the machine makes a lot of noise.

You will also hold an alarm button in your hand; you can press the alarm if you feel unwell during the examination.

Its very important that you keep still, and don't move during the examination.
